Within an easy stroll of Bali's famous Echo Beach, Villa Levi clings to the bend of a river in a tranquil setting amidst tall trees and the picturesque rice fields of Canggu. The epitome of graceful tropical living, this stylish eco-villa utilises reclaimed woods and natural stone throughout to create a richly textured luxurious hideaway adorned with evocative antiques and equipped with all mod cons. With a magnificent pool, three elegant bedrooms and the friendliest of staff, including a driver and complimentary car, Villa Levi is a truly idyllic destination for groups, families and those celebrating intimate weddings.

Villa Levi sits on a river island 200m down a long driveway, with only forest, fields, local houses and other private villas nearby, with a revered temple positioned on the opposite side of the river. Out on the main road are a couple of local shops selling basic grocery items and snacks, while less than two kilometres away is Echo Beach, with great surf and an enclave of cheap and cheerful but good quality seaside restaurants. A huge new apartment development will be opening soon at Echo Beach and will no doubt bring more great restaurants and retail outlets to the area.
