The layout

Indoor living

- Open-fronted sitting room with a pair of large, comfortable sofas facing the garden
- Air-conditioned dining room with Merbau-wood dining table seating up to 20
- Superbly equipped kitchen with Jura Impressa coffee machines, two fridges, and extra-large oven

- Air-conditioned TV room with 50-inch plasma TV, DVD player, book and DVD libraries
- Adjoining air-conditioned games room with full-size pool table and selection of games
- Sonos digital music system with individual programming zones both indoors and out (remotely controlled from anywhere in the villa)

Outdoor living

- Big breezy pool pavilion with giant L-shaped daybed, circular dining table for 10, waterproof poolside beanbags, kitchenette and guest changing room
- Stone-lined 11m x 11m infinity pool with wide shallow shelf and sun deck furnished with loungers and sunshades
- Extensive tropical gardens laid out in a series of courtyards with koi ponds and lawns, dotted with frangipani, oil palms and African tulip trees
- Relaxation/reading bale perched over a koi pond, with comfortable daybed and floor cushions

The rooms

Three Master bedrooms

- The first master bedroom occupies a stand-alone pavilion in the gardens next to the swimming pool and features a private balcony overlooking the rice fields
- Two more spacious master bedrooms are located upstairs in the main building, with French doors leading to balconies with stunning rice-terrace and (from one bathroom) ocean views
- All three rooms have luxury four-poster king-size beds draped in mosquito netting, are tastefully furnished with ikat weavings and Asian artefacts and equipped with iPod docks
- All have huge bathrooms with sunken double bathtubs, double basins on travertine vanities, and walk-in rain showers
- Adjoining one upstairs master is a study equipped with laptop computer and printer for guest use

Two twin bedrooms

- Both twin bedrooms at Bendega Nui can be converted to king-bedded rooms on request
- One upstairs twin with doors to rice-field-view balcony, 37-inch TV, iPod dock and ensuite bathroom with twin basins and spacious walk-in shower
- One ground-floor twin in private pavilion with sitting area, garden views and huge river-rock tub 'floating' at the centre of a fishpond in the room's generous ensuite bathroom

Optional one-bedroom pavilion

- Private suite set in a walled garden with plunge pool, sun deck and poolside bale
- Four-poster king bed under a vaulted roof
- iPod dock, TV with DVD player, and minibar
- Magnificent garden bathroom with walk-in rain shower, twin basins and large river-rock tub for two
- Traditional Balinese entrances connect the suite to Bendega Nui (and the three-bedroom Bendega Rato)

Location

Bendega is Balinese for fisherman, a fitting name for this villa, which sits in a sea of rice terraces on the perimeter of the small traditional fishing village of Nelayan in Bali's popular Canggu district. A five-minute walk down a quiet road will bring you to the stunning black-sands of Pantai Nelayan (a wonderful beach for walking and surfing but not safe for swimming), and a short stroll along the sands from here is the Tugu Hotel, an atmospheric boutique hotel-museum stacked with antiques and a 'must visit' during your stay. Many interesting cafes, bars and restaurants are springing up throughout this part of Canggu - several within easy walking distance of the villa.
