Living area

Inside this property you will find an open-plan living area with an enclosed bath in one corner and windows everywhere. It really is a cabin in the sky, with exposed beams, tall T&G ceilings, cedar plank walls and wainscot. And the entire loft smells so fresh from the rough sawn cedar paneling! Did we mention the windows? There are windows on every wall, so you get an uninterrupted view of the desert and mountains from every angle. The raised fireplace allows viewing from the seating area or while snuggling in the comfy king-sized bed. And there is plenty of space for an air mattress or sleeping bags for guests.

Kitchen

A fully equipped kitchen has everything you'll need, including the most important appliance â€” a coffee maker. There are a few upper storage shelves, but most of the kitchen wall is windows â€” you can wash dishes and watch the desert at the same time. The kitchen and bath both have ceramic tile floors and counter tops. The focus of the bathroom is the corner tub â€” big enough for two to soak and tucked under the corner windows, it has some of the best views in the loft. There is a separate shower and laundry too.

Outside area

The porch overlooks the lovely pool area and putting green complete with cactus obstacle! And of course, you have a clear view of the amazing desert and the towering saguaro cacti!

Location

So, if you are looking for a quiet secluded rental near Scottsdale, AZ, if you love the desert and spectacular sunsets, and actually being able to see the stars at night, you will love this property. And while it may feel like you're miles from nowhere, it's less than a mile to one of the gateway trail heads to the McDowell Mountain Sonoran Preserve. And, it's only a mile in each direction from the main Scottsdale access roads, literally making this gorgeous desert rental minutes from the best restaurants, shopping, hiking, horseback riding, golf and entertainment.
