Taos Ski Valley 23

🛏 4 🍽 3 👥 12

Nestled on a rustic lot in Taos Ski Valley with 360-degree views and the sound of a gentle river just outside, this is a modern retreat with space for kids to play outside and adults to revel in year-round recreation, from skiing to fly-fishing.

Newly renovated with stylish furniture, plush mattresses and high thread-count bedding, the two-level condo combines a feeling of escape with modern luxuries.

On the ground floor, an open living and dining area creates a feeling of connectivity with the outside as light streams through picture windows, showcasing river, mountain and nature views. Sliding glass doors open the 8-seat dining area to a naturally landscaped yard set against the mountain.

The living area is defined by multiple, cozy sitting areas. Lounge on the full-length couch, which doubles as a queen sleeper sofa, to watch the wall-mounted TV, or curl up on the loveseat tucked into an alcove by the wood-burning fireplace. A window seat overlooking the wooded grounds outside is the perfect size for a young reader. Fur pillows and cozy knit throw blankets, combined with the log accents and hardwood floors, evoke the feeling of a rustic Swiss chalet.

Steps away, a well-supplied galley kitchen, complete with copper cups for Moscow Mules, has everything you need to add spirited drinks or cocoa and comfort food to a day inside.

The ground level also features the Southwestern-inspired guest master suite, which features a queen-sized bed, flat-screen TV and charming writing desk.

Just upstairs are the remaining three bedrooms. The master suite, decorated in a New England cottage style, has a four-post California king bed and romantic wood-burning fireplace. A luxurious en-suite bath features a Kohler extra-deep soaking tub, one of two in the condo.

The kid-friendly third bedroom has a full-over-full bunk bed with two large bean bag chairs and an in-room sink. The fourth bedroom, styled as a playroom with a large, wall-mounted TV, has a queen daybed. You will also have a Pack and Play to entertain small children.

The upper level also features a quaint studio kitchen with a microwave, small refrigerator and Keurig coffee machine. A private washer and dryer adds convenience.

Please be advised that this home does not have air conditioning.

This home does welcome pets with an additional fee.

Outside, adventure awaits with Taos Ski Valley just four miles away, the Hondo River steps from your front door, and a network of nature trails awaiting exploration. Take in the views from your furnished sundeck, spend an afternoon fly fishing, or simply stroll to the bank to listen to the sounds of the river.

Take advantage of parking at your front door to easily access the world-class skiing at Taos or to explore the fine art meccas of Arroyo Seco, Taos and Santa Fe, all within a days drive.
