Villa Casa Pablo

🛏 4 🚿 3 👥 8

The newly built Casa Pablo feels as if it's integrated with nature - both with the bay of Grand Cul de Sac, which is stretched out beneath the swimming pool in front, and with the natural rock wall that rises up behind the house and is incorporated into the architecture and interior design of some of the bedrooms and the living room. Throughout, the luxury rental property is defined by its extensive and skillful use of wood and other natural materials, as well as some thoughtful art pieces.

At Casa Pablo, the pool is the star of the show. It extends along almost the entire length of the villa. It is outfitted with steps, stools for sitting, lights for evening swims, and a heater. The small deck in front of one of the bedrooms, and appearing to float above the pool, is a wonderful place to relax with a book or simply contemplate the view.

The living room is cozy, with a large smart TV with satellite channels. This room can be fully air-conditioned if needed. Nearby, the fully equipped kitchen is nicely tucked away and discreet. When you book Casa Pablo, you can enjoy meals around the kitchen island indoors, or outdoors on the covered terrace.

Two of the four bedrooms are on the same level as the common areas, one on each side of the living area. Each has an ensuite bathroom. One of them has a bathtub, and the other has an outdoor shower and bathtub integrated into the stone. The remaining two bedrooms are located one level below and are accessible from the parking area. These bedrooms share a bathroom.
