At the foot of the villa there is lap pool and surrounding sun lounge area. The villa is elevated above that, atop a natural stone wall. A deck surrounding the property has ample room for alfresco dining under a parasol. An additional alfresco dining table and chairs sits under a delightful pergola, which is covered in foliage. Enter through Spanish, wooden doors into a quaint interior, with pebble stone flooring and white walls. A bright red and white, glossy kitchen adds a contemporary twist. There are three bedrooms, two of which overlook beautiful views.

Location

Known also as the white village, Frigiliana sits high upon a mountain ridge, right above the beautiful resort town of Nerja. Embroiled in a labyrinth of steep cobbled footpaths, narrow winding streets and traditional whitewashed houses, it is no wonder that it was voted the prettiest village in Andalucia by the Spanish tourism authority. Two sections make up Frigiliana; The newer, lower section and the older Morisco-Mudájar neighbourhood which makes up the upper section. Steeped in history and authenticity the upper section is certainly the main attraction. Here you will be taken back in time to Moorish lands and a selection of decorative floor mosaics tell a tale which goes as far back as the 8th century!

Mobility Statement

This villa is in an exceptionally hilly/mountainous area. There is a step from the villa to the garden and there are steps to the terrace.
