Villa Mirande

Built in the traditional style with genuine St. Barth flair, Villa Mirande represents everything that is idyllic about the island. It is a place for slow living, close connections with friends and family, and harmony with nature. The late afternoons are particularly sweet in Villa Mirande. Its location in Pointe Milou gives it lovely sunset views, especially from the living room and terrace.

Villa Mirande is also made more convenient and relaxing by virtue of its location. It is right above the Christopher hotel, within a few minutes' drive of beaches and shopping.

The luxury rental property is well suited to a family or group of friends. It has a classic St. Barth layout of one master bedroom to each side of the living room and two more bedrooms downstairs. Each of the master bedrooms has a sea view, queen-size bed, and modern ensuite bathroom. The bedrooms on the lower floor have two twin beds each, which can be made up as king-size beds.

But it is the shared areas of the house that are the most inviting. The living room has plentiful seating and a wide wall of windows, which can be folded back to let in the Caribbean breezes. Tucked to one side is the dining area, with a glass table that seats eight. The kitchen has granite countertops, up-to-date amenities, and an extra refrigerator.

This interior living space can be air-conditioned on sweltering days, but it is advised to keep the shutters closed. Alternatively, guests can sunbathe on the loungers on the terrace or cool off in the infinity-edge plunge pool.
