Villa Nita

🛏 3 🚿 3 👥 6

Villa Nita is one of the island's finest examples of a new trend in St. Barth interior design and decor: a return to the stylized forms of the 1960s, blending yesterday's curve with today's angle, finding a harmony between the best of the past and the best of the present. Villa Nita does it right, and with a great view and central location as well.

The main living area opens directly on the terrace and sparkling pool via two large sliding glass "hideaway" doors. To the rear of the living room is a separate home cinema room with a top-of-the-line HDTV, Bose surround sound system, and BluRay DVD. The kitchen is practical and stylish, with black countertops, side-by-side SMEG fridge and freezer, a wine-storage unit and many other convenient amenities.

Located on either side of the main living area, the two bedrooms are roughly equal in size and furnishings, and both open onto the terrace and view. Furnished with custom cabinetry and beautifully designed beds imported from Portugal, these rooms have a chic yet inviting ambiance.
