Villa Plumbago

4 4 8

Traditional West Indies architecture and design sparkle in Villa Plumbago, a luxury rental property that is full of high-end furnishings, antiques, and art. All of it is very carefully kept, giving the house an air of timeless elegance. A centerpiece is the large pink chandelier in the majestic living room, but that is only one of many details that set the home apart.

Located at the far end of Colombier, Villa Plumbago has excellent privacy and striking views. Windows and glass doors all around allow people in any room to look out over the sea and the well-maintained garden. There is also a view in the back, over Flamands beach.

The social heart of the villa is the large living room and spacious, well-appointed kitchen with its bar and barstools. There is a small office or TV room in the back. Outside, the terrace continues the feeling of grand, easy living. The heated infinity pool is more than 60 feet long and surrounded by ample seating and lounge chairs. There are also seating areas in the gardens around the property.

Each of the bedrooms has its own garden or terrace as well. Two of them are on the main level, in separate bungalows that align with the swimming pool. Each of these has a romantic four-poster bed and an ensuite bathroom, and the first master bedroom has a large dressing area, couches, and chairs.

The second master bedroom is below the first, and it also has a four-poster bed, large dressing area, and ensuite bathroom. It has a separate sitting area with a sleeper sofa, making it a good option for parents with children. The last bedroom is in its own building, with two twin beds that can be made up as a European king-size bed.

The lower level also has a hallway leading to the covered parking area and a game room with a ping pong table, full bar, sectional sofa, and satellite TV.
